

Teaching and Learning

فقيه

كلية فقيه للعلوم الطبية
Fakeeh College for Medical Sciences

By the end of this course,
the participants will be able to:

- 1 Describe effective techniques for promoting interaction in both large and small groups.
- 2 Recognize different learning theories, self-regulatory practice and principles of adult learning.
- 3 Develop and evaluate curricula according to the new trends in medical education and on a systematic way based on the learners' specialties.
- 4 Assess the alignment of intended learning outcomes to teaching strategies and assessment methods.
- 5 Analyze curricula towards appropriate reform and organization.
- 6 Show teamwork skills, self-learning abilities and ethical and professional behavior in dealing with colleagues.

Speakers:

Dr. Amira Salem
Dr. Sarah Eltouny
Medical Education department

Target candidates:

All health care specialties.

The course will be conducted within three months

(Sept 01, 2021 - Dec 01, 2021)
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

For registration, please contact
Academic Affairs Unit Ext #805 or visit our website
www.fakeehcollege.edu.sa